

Florida Heritage Book Festival Hosts 2nd Annual One-Day Conference

An array of award-winning authors, along with literary agent Lucienne Diver, share their knowledge at the Florida Heritage Writers Workshop, on Friday, September 11 at St. Augustine's Casa Monica Hotel.

Joining Diver, who will give the luncheon keynote talk as well as a workshop on "Getting an Agent's Attention—The Right Way," are Nancy Haddock (La Vida Vampire), Shawn Bean (The First Hollywood: Florida and the Golden Age of Silent Filmmaking), T. J. MacGregor (Cold as Death), Pamela Bauer Mueller (An Angry Drum Echoed: Mary Musgrove, Queen of the Creeks), M. C. Finotti (The Treasure of Amelia Island), Michael Hamilton (former senior editor with John Wiley & Sons), and Tom Cavanagh (Prodigal Son).

The complete schedule, bios of presenters, and registration form can be found at www.fhbookfest.com. The conference fee is $50 for early-bird registration through Friday, August 14. After August 16, the registration fee increases to $65, but all registration forms and checks must be received by Saturday, September 5. If any space is still available, the registration at the door will be $85. Registration fees include morning coffee and lunch.

Registration and payment may be made online at www.fhbookfest.com, or sent to:

Florida Heritage Book Festival
P. O. Box 660
St. Augustine, FL 32085

The Florida Heritage Writers Workshop marks the first day of the 2-day Florida Heritage Book Festival. On Saturday, September 12, the festival continues with thirty outstanding authors, book signings, panel discussions, children's events, and more. This day is for both readers and writers and it's free, except for the Keynote Luncheon with Sen. Mel Martinez, and takes place at Flagler College. For all the details, please visit www.fhbookfest.com.

###